

Submitting work for publication through the University of Florida College of Medicine-Jacksonville Cureus Journal of Medical Science Flagship Channel

Access the website: <https://www.cureus.com/>

If you don't have an account, create an account. If you have an account, sign-in.

Helpful tips:

- Be sure that you have read the author instructions.
- Make sure your submission is properly formatted, including references!
- Submissions should be well written, and as close to copy-edit ready as possible
- One author must be a University of Florida College of Medicine-Jacksonville faculty, staff or trainee.
- You will be expected to provide 5 peer reviewers, be mindful of who you recommend- who will be fair and unbiased
- Published articles will receive a PMID after publication
- It is recommended that you submit work through your respective journals as first line
- Review our Publications Resource webpage for more tips and resources: <https://med.jax.ufl.edu/faculty-development/resources/publication-resources/>

After logging into Cureus and the author preview page, you will come to this page, click no.

Getting Started > Competition

Is this a competition entry?

Cureus hosts sponsored publishing competitions. Would you like to learn more? Contact us!

No, this is not a competition entry.

Yes, this is a competition entry.

Is this a channel article? Answer Yes, this is a channel.

Is this a channel article?

Cureus channels offer departments and organizations a venue to showcase their research, highlight faculty and notify their community of upcoming events. Have you been encouraged or directed to publish in Cureus by your organization? If so, please click 'Yes' and check if they are listed below. Click here to learn more.

No, this is not a channel article.

Yes, this is a channel article.

Select University of Florida College of Medicine-Jacksonville

FLAGSHIP: Medical Scholarly Proceedings

Please select your academic institution:

- Dr. Kiran C. Patel College of Allopathic Medicine (N...
- Dr. Kiran C. Patel College of Osteopathic Medicine (...)
- Florida Atlantic University
- Florida International University
- Florida State University
- Lake Erie College of Osteopathic Medicine (LECOM)
- University of Central Florida
- University of Florida College of Medicine – Jacksonv...
- University of South Florida

